DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a second temperature of 360F-430F, does not reasonably provide enablement for a second temperature of greater than 360F. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. See page 4, lines 11-12.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 4, 5, 10, 16, 17 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. In claims 10 and 22 a comma is missing in line 6, before "elemental sulfur".

Claims 4, 5, 16 and 17 contain unexplained abbreviations, i.e. SBS, SBR and BR.

There cannot be any unexplained abbreviations in the claims.

6. The term "high molecular weight" in claims 5 and 17 is a relative term, which renders the claim indefinite. The term "high molecular weight" is not defined by the claims, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The height of the molecular weight is immaterial.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 13-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(anticipated) as being anticipated by Krivohlavek 5,256,710 or Binder et al. 3,963,659.

9. Krivohlavek discloses crosslinkable polymers, asphalt and reactive phenol aldehyde resin in claim 1, radial and block copolymers in claim 8 and sulfur and sulfur donors in claims 4, 5 and 9. Binder et al. teach ethylene propylene rubber and asphalt in claim 1, EPDM in column 2, lines 37-55 peroxides, sulfur and triallyl cyanurate in column 8, lines 50-55. Applicants' claims are not novel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

12. Claims 13-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krivohlavek 5,256,710, Binder et al. 3,963,659, in view of Burel et al. 5,428,085 or Puzic et al. 6,414,056.

13. The primary references have been discussed already. Burel et al. in claim 38 and Puzic et al. in claim 2 show the equivalence of styrene-butadiene rubbers and olefin rubbers, proving that the substitution of one for the other would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made.
